

Basic Search Practice

Anna is doing some more research for her trip.

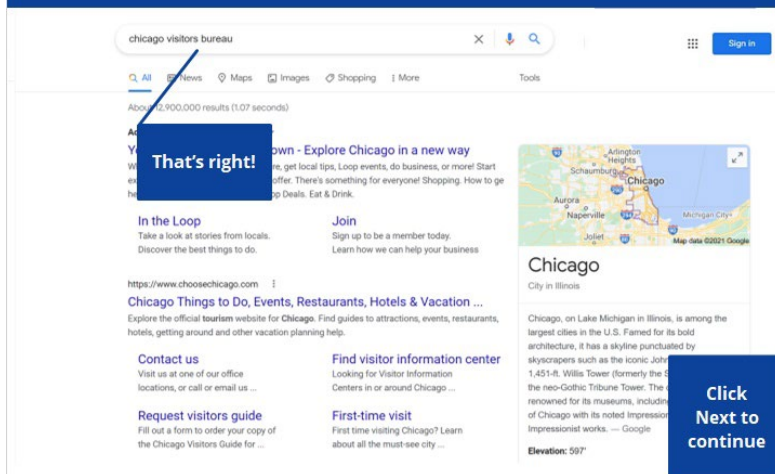

Let's take a look, and see if you can remember some of the main points about searching.

Can you identify where you enter your search terms when searching Google? Click on it now.

Anna did a search in Google for Chicago Visitor's Bureau. Can you identify where you enter your search terms when searching Google? Click on the spot where you enter search terms now. Click on the hint button if you need help.

Can you identify where you enter your search terms when searching Google? Click on it now.

Can you identify where the ad appears?
Click on the ad now.

The screenshot shows a Google search interface for 'chicago visitors bureau'. The search bar is at the top with a search icon and a 'Sign in' button. Below the search bar are filters for All, News, Maps, Images, Shopping, and More. The search results show 'About 12,900,000 results (1.07 seconds)'. The first result is an advertisement from 'http://www.loopchicago.com/' titled 'Your Official Guide Downtown - Explore Chicago in a new way'. Below the ad are several other search results from 'www.choosechicago.com' including 'Chicago Things to Do, Events, Restaurants, Hotels & Vacation ...', 'Contact us', 'Request visitors guide', 'Find visitor information center', and 'First-time visit'. On the right side of the search results, there is a map of Chicago and a 'Chicago' information card. A blue 'Hint' button with a lightbulb icon is overlaid on the bottom right of the search results area.

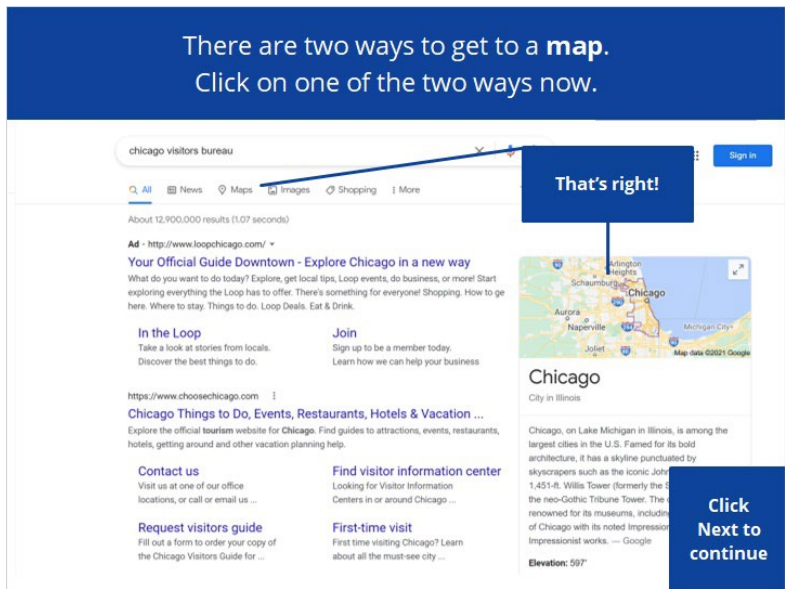

Some of the results on this page are advertisements. Can you identify where the ad appears? Click on the ad now. Click on the hint button if you need help.

Can you identify where the ad appears?
Click on the ad now.

This screenshot is identical to the one above, but with additional annotations. A blue arrow points from the text 'That's right!' to the advertisement for 'Your Official Guide Downtown'. A blue box with the text 'Click Next to continue' is overlaid on the bottom right of the search results area, near the 'Hint' button.

There are two ways to get to a map. Click on one of the two areas now. Click on the hint button if you need help.

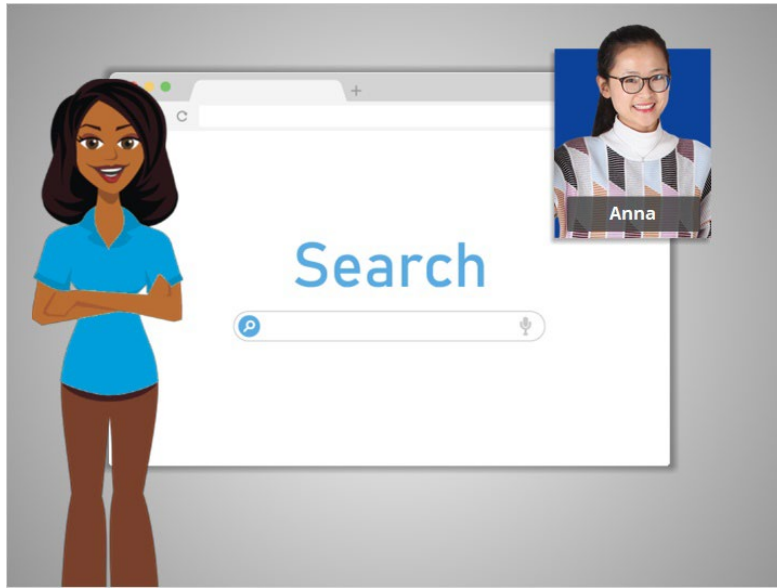

Click the link that will take you to the image results.

The screenshot shows a Google search for "chicago visitors bureau". The search bar contains the text "chicago visitors bureau" and a search icon. Below the search bar, there are navigation tabs for "All", "News", "Maps", "Images", "Shopping", and "More". The search results show "About 12,900,000 results (1.07 seconds)". The first result is an advertisement from "http://www.loopchicago.com/" titled "Your Official Guide Downtown - Explore Chicago in a new way". Below the ad are several links: "In the Loop", "Join", "Chicago Things to Do, Events, Restaurants, Hotels & Vacation ...", "Contact us", "Request visitors guide", "Find visitor information center", and "First-time visit". On the right side of the search results, there is a map of Chicago and a knowledge panel for "Chicago, City in Illinois". A blue "Hint" button with a lightbulb icon is overlaid on the right side of the search results.

You can also search for images. Click the link that will take you to the image results. Click on the hint button if you need help.

Click the link that will take you to the image results.

The screenshot is identical to the one above, showing a Google search for "chicago visitors bureau". In this version, a blue box highlights the "Images" tab in the navigation bar. A blue box with the text "That's right!" is overlaid on the map of Chicago. A blue box with the text "Click Next to continue" is overlaid on the bottom right of the search results.

In this class, we learned all about searching, and walked through as Anna did research for her trip to Chicago. Why don't you give searching a try?